

CELLIFE

MAGNETIC FIELD GENERATOR

MAGNETIC RESONANCE THERAPY

to stimulate cell metabolism

What does CELLIFE do?

The healing powers of magnetic fields have been known for centuries. The energy field of our earth is a building block of our life. Nature lives from the power of electromagnetic fields. It is precisely these energy fields that assume an important functional role in our body. They are responsible for healing processes, regeneration processes, balance and well-being.

Every body movement in the daily routine means energy expenditure and consumption. Mental activity is also not possible without expenditure of energy. Our body's ability to use the immune system to heal disease also requires energy. The body draws this energy from around 100 trillion cells. Each individual cell is to be regarded as an energy source in itself. If the cell is healthy, all bodily functions function smoothly and the person feels healthy, fit and vital. Healthy cells are therefore the basis for keeping people healthy.

Feeling good in your body means being free from disease, insomnia, imbalance, overload and disharmony. Nature forgives us nothing. If we break their laws, we become ill or susceptible to illness.

How can a disturbed cell metabolism express itself?

- ✘ Bodily functions no longer function smoothly.
- ✘ The body's detoxification function is disturbed.
- ✘ You feel tired, burned out, without energy and power.

The organism should therefore be supported in its performance in good time and in the long term so that the body's own defenses are mobilized in a gentle and effective way. CELLIFE can gently activate the body's own healing powers in a natural way.

The CELLIFE magnetic field generator sustainably supports cell regeneration by generating a pulsating, electromagnetic field that gently penetrates the entire body. This magnetic field can activate the cell membrane because it vibrates in the same frequency range. The organism is thus stimulated to help itself and to set the body's own regenerative powers in motion.

The mobilization of the body with the energy field takes place in a natural way and can be considered a natural healing process.

How does CELLIFE work?

Healthy and high-energy cells normally divide into millions. This division process means that fresh and renewed cells are constantly available to the body. Used and energyless cells are rejected by the body. This regeneration cycle already decreases at the age of twenty. Stress and wear and tear cause disturbances in this process of cell regeneration. This can result in a general functional impairment of the organs.

Over the years, energy poverty sets in, which means that the body is no longer able to regenerate the cells and provide enough new energy. The lack of energy is constantly increasing. This functional weakness is usually referred to as a "disease", but it does not have to come to that.

Magnetic field therapy can get cell regeneration going again and thus increase general well-being. A healthy diet, sufficient exercise and a healthy and balanced environment do the rest.

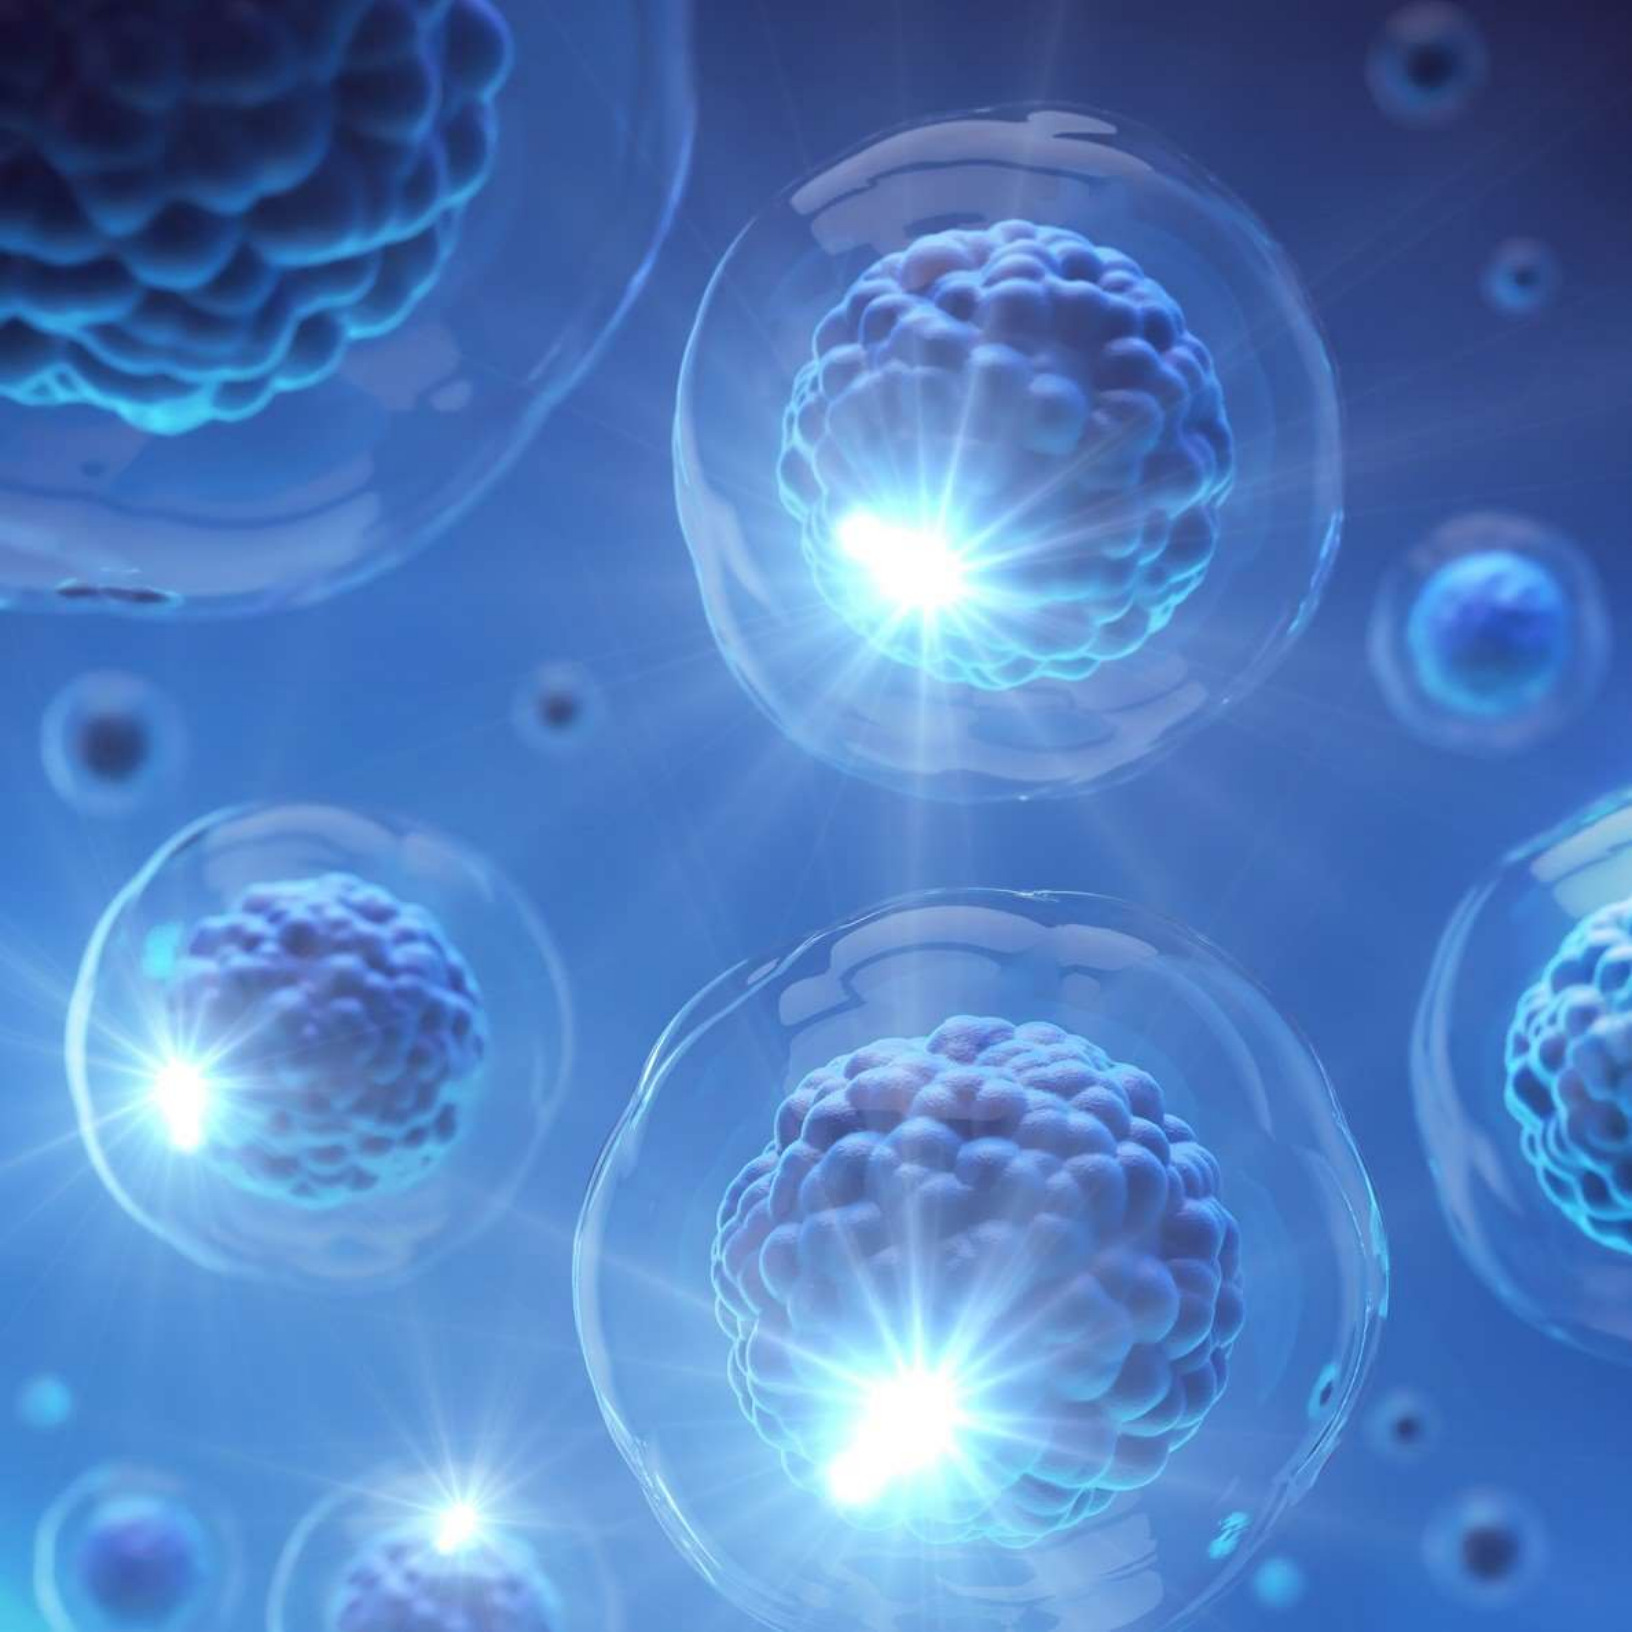

Physical movement means muscle and nerve action. This in turn leads to protein production and the build-up of cell energy. A regeneration process occurs. It is scientifically known that electromagnetic forces play an important role in the regeneration process when muscles and nerves are actuated.

If an artificially generated magnetic field, which largely corresponds to the natural potentials in the body, is brought to the human body, the individual cells can no longer distinguish whether the excitation comes from the body or is artificially induced from outside. A lack of movement can thus be compensated for by regular use of the magnetic wave generator.

Where there is a lack of function and energy in cells, organs, tissue and bones, force fields are generated and strengthened. This improvement in the body's regulatory function can also have a positive effect on the immune system to fight bacteria and viruses.

What positive effects can a functioning cell metabolism have on the body?

- ✓ You have more energy and feel fit, powerful and vital.
- ✓ Your ability to perform and concentrate is increased.
- ✓ You feel balanced and in a positive mood.
- ✓ Your general well-being is increased.
- ✓ Your body is in balance and you can take control of your health easier to obtain.

Everything good takes time. This also applies to the stimulation of the body's own regenerative powers. Cases in which positive feedback from users comes after only three days, that a significant improvement in the regeneration behavior can be felt, are not uncommon. As a rule, however, it can be assumed that an improvement can occur after two to three weeks.

An effective energy boost can only be achieved if the application is carried out regularly twice a day for 10 minutes.

Not everyone is physically active or has the time to do so. An accident or serious illness can be the reason for passive sports behavior. Nevertheless, the body needs kinetic energy! CELLIFE can be the replacement for what we lack in daily necessary movement. Stress, inner restlessness, tension and our environment block our regeneration systems. The CELLIFE magnetic wave generator can help to release these blockages, make you fit and regulate energy deficits.

Detoxification of the body is also a natural process. The higher the slugging, the stronger the magnetic field therapy can positively influence the detoxification processes. The body is detoxified via the intestines, the kidneys, the mucous membranes and also via the skin. Before the toxins can be transported away via the blood, they have to be released from the tissue. CELLIFE can sustainably support this process in the body. In the first 8-14 days you should drink more fluids to make the detoxification phase easier for the body.

The positive effect of magnetic field stimulation on the human organism has now been scientifically proven. However, the supporting energy of magnetic therapy is still unknown to most people.

The following results are reported in numerous studies and field reports:

Blood flow and oxygen supply are improved. The body will purify and detoxifies.

Optimization of bodily functions and energy balance. Well-being, vitality and performance are increased.

Metabolism and immune system stimulated. The self-healing powers of the body activated.

Pain is relieved.
Faster regeneration and healing after injuries and broken bones.

Testimonials

This is what our users say about their experience with the CELLIFE system

Back pain

In the last 15 years I suffered several herniated discs in a row due to work and a scoliosis of the spine. After a total of four herniated discs, I was dependent on painkillers every day to get through the day. I've been using the CELLIFE system twice a day for 10 minutes for 4 weeks now and I'm already pain-free for the first time without painkillers. I could hardly believe the quick success and I finally have my quality of life back. Now I look forward to using it every day.

Menopause

After abdominal surgery, I had major problems with hormone levels and slipped into it prematurely the menopause. On recommendation from friends, I bought the CELLIFE mat. Already after a few weeks, I experienced a significant stabilization of my hormone levels. After another 4 weeks I was able to do without additional hormone preparations. Thank you for this mat there. It helped me a lot.

Sports injury & Recovery

I suffered from a very painful bursitis in my left shoulder as a result of overexertion during sports. Unfortunately, there was no real improvement after 2 weeks, even with high doses of painkillers and anti-inflammatory drugs in the form of ointments and tablets and by immobilising the joint. I then used the CELLIFE system directly on the shoulder 3 times a day. After just a few days, the inflammation slowly receded and I was able to do without the strong tablets. After another week I was completely pain-free and could already put some weight on my arm. I no longer need an originally announced surgery. I will continue to use the system for shoulder healing and overall faster post-exercise recovery.

Burnout & Exhaustion

Tired and exhausted was my everyday state. I had heard about the mat and wanted to try it as a last resort, although I'm rather skeptical about such devices. I tried it and was very surprised that after a few weeks of using it twice a day, I felt fit and in good spirits so quickly. Thanks!

Vitality & Well-being

I've been using the CELLIFE system for 6 weeks now and I feel great all over. My high levels of stress and tension have gone down relaxed, I can sleep peacefully again and I feel fit all over balanced. My frequent stomach pains have gotten much better.

Fracture

I used the CELLIFE device to heal my broken leg after a skiing accident. The bone was nailed and supported with a steel plate. The healing process was very fast and the nails could be removed much earlier than expected. CELLIFE helped and still helps me today.

Digestive problems

Digestive problems were my everyday life. Nothing worked for me without additional laxatives. I got the CELLIFE mat to try it out and after 4 weeks I could see that my digestive system had really got going. I then kept the CELLIFE mat and since then my digestion has worked without laxatives.
